Class History

Many years ago (at least it seems that way at times) an assorted group of 125 children decided to take a long voyage across the Sea of Knowledge. This was a stupendous task which we were going to undertake—so, we fitted our ship with first rate sailors and a most capable captain, Captain Keller. The first sailors we asked to go with us on the voyage were: First Mates Ethel Ellen, Dora Collier and Myrle Keller and the next were Second Mates Sarah Wellons and Flora Grant.

JUNIOR ACTIVITIES

This being the tenth year of our school life, I'm sure we can truthfully say it has been one of our most enjoyable years. It has been full of fun and laughter. Something has happened just often enough to arouse our interest and cause us to enjoy school much more. We feel proud of our class and its outlook for the future.

Those students having perfect attendance for the entire year are: Marion Johnson, Carl Bell Martin, Edith Hinnant and Beatrice Atkinson.

Those making the Honor Roll during every month were: Eunice Price, Marion Johnson and Willie Lee Parker.

The Juniors sponsored their class play, "Good Gracious, Grandma!" It proved to be a great success.

The school sponsored a carnival Hallowe'en night. The Juniors collected votes for the prettiest girl and ran a bingo stand. A Junior girl, Gilbertine Hardy, won the honor of being the prettiest girl in high school.

Recently we had an election for May Day honors and Mary Lee O'Neal was elected maid of honor.

At various times during the year we have lost members of the class. Although we hated to lose these six people we wish them the greatest success.

At the beginning of the year our class elected a staff for the Co-Ho-Pa. These people have helped the Senior staff and learned a lot themselves. Next year they will have charge of the Co-Ho-Pa.

The one thing that the Juniors and Seniors both will probably enjoy most is the Junior's treat for the Seniors. Instead of having a Junior-Senior banquet, the Juniors will take the Seniors as their guests to Green's Lodge for supper and then back to the Ambassador Theater in Raleigh for a show.

We have learned many things that we will have to do our Senior year. We realize that next year will be the greatest year of our entire school career and we are eagerly looking forward to it.

SOPHOMORE ACTIVITIES

The Sophomore class for 1940-41 has a very good record. We would like for the rest of the school and our patrons to hear about it.

Forty-six were on the roll in September but four of these were lost during the year. Of our present number, several have records worthy of mention. The following have not missed a day during the entire year: Marguerite Atkinson, Joy Brown, Doris Corbett, Rosa Lee Congleton, Helen Tippett, Ruth Parrish, Calvin Perry, Nevell Davis and Elmo Richardson. These students made the semester Honor Roll: Lemuell Hogge, Sherwood Davis, Will Barnes Fowler, Calvin Perry and Joy Brown. Doris Wilder missed by only one point in one grade.

In athletics, our class has not shown up as it should. We had only one member on the boys' basketball team. This was Henry Godwin, who saw very little action. In baseball, Henry Godwin and A. G. Ailder made the grade. Violet Brown and Rosa Lee Congleton were members of the girls' basketball squad.

We had 16 members in the 4-H Club. In fact, Will Barnes Fowler, one of our leading Sophomores was president of the club. Maloye Hinton won first place at the Corinth-Holder 4-H Club style show.

We gave our annual chapel program in February. We tried to impersonate some of the best known and leading citizens of the United States. Will Barnes Fowler acted as President Roosevelt and Gertrude Edwards as Mrs. Roosevelt. Maloye Hinton impersonated Mae West; Calvin Perry—Bob Burns; Henry Godwin—Kate Smith; Vivian Pearl Johnson—Gracie Allen; Hursell Fowler—George Burns; Helen Tippett—Baby Snooks; Davis Chamblee—Baby Snooks' father; Wilton Raper—Rudy Valee. Music was furnished by D. J. Smith, Marguerite Atkinson, and Johnny Burton O'Neal. Doris Wilder acted as master of ceremonies.

Mr. H. V. Payne was our home room teacher. He proved to be most helpful to us and we appreciate his efforts a great deal. He also taught us Biology. Miss Suddarth taught our English and History, Mr. Lewis taught Algebra and Miss Hawkes taught Home Economics.

We Sophomores enjoyed this school year and look forward to next year for more enjoyment and better records.

FRESHMAN ACTIVITIES

In the Freshman class several students have perfect attendance for the entire year. These students are Ada Mae Creech, Ru-Dene Batten, Edna Creech, Peggy O'Neal, and M. W. Thompson.

Among those that have been on the Honor Roll at various times during the year are: Mozelle Hocutt, Thelma Lee Jones, Peggy O'Neal, Louise Boyette, Dwight Price, Weldon Hogge and Jasslyn Corbett.

Twice during the year, the class has enjoyed social functions. Just before Thanksgiving the girls complimented the boys with a party. On Valentine Day the boys returned the favor to the girls with a party.

The girls gave their annual chapel program in January. They presented a one-act play entitled, "Pa Wants a Cushion". The theme was that a cushion can be useful as well as ornamental.

The boys presented "A Wedding in Coon's Town" in March. Rudolph Harris was the bride and Riley Naron was the groom. Winton Nowell said the vows with very impressive gestures. Jasslyn Corbett sang a most impressive solo. Vernetta Harris was the flower girl and Oscar Tippett, as the mother, wept bitterly when her daughter was given away.

We have lost several members of our class during the year. Possibly the one which we have missed the most is Joseph Strickland. We have gained three girls since opening of school.

After we had completed these two laps of our journey we were capable of making some of our own suggestions, but we still kept a fine crew, including Lts. Mildred Dean, Mable Nordon Godwin, Lessie Hocutt, Geneva Woodard, (who is now First Mate Wilder) Clara M. Pigg, and LaVerna Langston (who is now First Mate Britt). Lt. Mable Nordon Godwin proved such an able seaman that we kept her for a long time. About this time we also took on a new sailor, Elizabeth Gibbs. The final suggestions for going on deck were given by Second Mate Ruth Cunningham, and Lt. Annie Lee Hawkes, (who is now First Mate Coble). About this time we decided to leave the sailing vessel we were on and embark on a steamship. On the last lap of the voyage, on the small sailing vessel, there were 90 members on board. Already 35 had decided not to sail further. Of this 90, 32 saw no reason why they should continue their voyage further. Studying on the deck, 58 of us, with our passports (seventh grade diplomas) clutched in our hands we were anxiously awaiting the hour when we would go on board the larger ship, which was to carry us many another mile. This journey was not to be a brief one, but one that would extend over a period of four years.

Practically all of this time would be spent on the boat except for four months out of each year, during which time the boat would dock in the same interesting and picturesque town so that the passengers might visit the surrounding country. On our voyage on this strange and unknown body of water, we were to face greater problems than had ever before confronted us.

The time finally came for us to embark. We climbed the gang plank and were greeted at the top by her worthy skipper, Captain E. C. Cunningham, who welcomed us and instructed the sailors, Ruby K. Isley, sponsor and Lts. Williamson, Holland, and Paine to show us the boat. When the gang plank was taken up and anchor weighed, we sought our staterooms to unpack and become more familiar with our surroundings. It seemed that only one of our crew became sea sick and left the ship. We passed through two heavy storms (exams) and encountered minor squalls every four weeks (tests). At times it seemed that the boat was destined to be detroyed, but each time she weathered the storm. In the spring of '38 all but one of us succeeded in attaining the first harbor which signified that one-fourth of our voyage was finished.

For our second voyage we lost Sponsor Ruby K. Isley and Lts. Williamson and Holland, who were replaced by Sponsor Charles F. Lewis and Lts. Carlton, Henderson and Richards. For this voyage we again had 58 members; four changes had been made in our class personnel.

In the fall of '39 we set sail for the third harbor, this time we lost Lts. Henderson and Paine, who were replaced by Lts. Rogers and H. V. Payne. We had 51 members aboard for this cruise. Nine members had decided to repeat the second voyage or discontinue altogether. The new passengers were taken on and their confusion and discomforts amused the older ones very much. The waters were a little rougher this year, so we had to work harder than ever to continue to be "good sailors". However, we had learned how to keep from getting sea sick when our ship was rocked by the billows. When our third year on board was ended we reached the third harbor, having suffered very few catastrophes on the journey.

For the final cruise we lost Lts. Rogers, Richards and Carlton who were replaced by Lts. Suddarth, Austin, and Hawkes. For this fourth and final cruise, the fall of '40, we left seven of our members to join the crew that came next year. When Ila Mae Reardon was transferred to the ship of matrimony she failed to finish with us, so we had only 41 members for our final cruise. Thus we started our final cruise, the saddest and most exciting of all. This year most of us have been successful in qualifying for diplomas.

The sponsor of the crew, Charles F. Lewis, has proved to be more help than we ever thought any sponsor could be. He has been with us for three years and we wish to state our sincere appreciation to him for his kindness and help.

Of the 125 who started in the fall of 1930, only 17 have completed the voyage without interruption. They were: Laney Grace Fowler, Pauline Richardson, Wilma Ruth Davis, Mary Ellen Driver, Ruby Edwards, Barbara Nell Wilder, Costa Hocutt, Jr., Inez Maiden, Wanda Wilder, Jessie Boykin, Elbert Price, Milton Nowell, Adele Lee, Kathryn Harris, Eugene Barham, Thurman Batchelor and Edna Smith.

The remaining (22) either began their voyage prior to 1930 or have been added later.

We have had the usual activities the last week and the end of the memorable voyage will be reached at Sunset when we file down the gang plank and receive diplomas showing we have completed the trip.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE SEASON

The boys enjoyed one of the best seasons in the history of the school in winning 21 games while they lost only 5. Eleven of these games came in a row without a defeat. The team finished second in county competition based on the entire season's play.

Rufus Hinton, acting captain of the team, was the leader of our team. Although he was not the high scorer for the season, he could score when the going was tough. Red Davis led the scoring and when he was "on" he was hard to stop. M. A. Narron, who was second in scoring, was very valuable because of his height. He took many balls off both backboards. Milton Nowell, who was very flashy, showed up well at times. His game against Meadow in the county tourney was one of the best turned in by anyone during the whole year.

The high spot of the year was our winning the Gold Leaf tourney at Wendell. We defeated Middlesex, Garner and Wendell to carry away the trophy. Lady Luck deserted us in the tournament at Smithfield. M. A., Rufus and Claudius couldn't get going because of colds and we lost to Meadow, a team which most of us were sure that we could beat under other conditions.

The best game of the season was the one against Four Oaks here. They defeated us by the score of 31-29 after we had led them for most of the game. The game was lost in the last minute. With two seconds to go Rufus took a shot which barely missed, which would have tied up the ball game. The lead in the county standings was lost in that game and Four Oaks went on to finish out in front and also win the tourney by a big margin.

Milton Nowell and Red Davis are being lost to the team by graduation, but all of the other squad members are returning. With some good material coming up from the seventh grade and three regulars back from this year's team, we should have another good team next year. Let's look forward to a championship team next year.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE SEASON

Our best game of the year was the one against Garner, last year's champs, in the Gold Leaf tourney at Wendell. We won the game by the score of 18-17. . . Wilma Ruth Davis was the hardest fighter on the team. . . Violet Brown made the greatest improvement during the year . . Sallie Rae Moody was the calmest player under fire. . . Theo. Glover proved to be a good captain and good leader. . . Linnie Ruth Martin made some of the prettiest baskets of the season. . Ru-Dene Bell held her own with any and all opponents. . . Gladerine Wilder was one of the best defensive guards ever to represent Corinth-Holder on the hardwood. Her play will be greatly missed. . . The subs, Laney Grace Fowler, Omegia Moody, Kathryn Harris and Rosa Lee Congleton, were always willing and ready to do their part. . . We won over half of our games during the year. We averaged 25 points per game while our opponents averaged 23 points per game.

THE TEAM'S REACTIONS

I enjoyed playing forward this year much better than as a guard for three years.—Wilma R. Davis

I have played my best for four years.—Gladerine Wilder

I have really enjoyed playing for the last four years.—Linnie R. Martin

The success we have enjoyed this year is largely due to our coach, Miss Austin.—Ru-Dene Bell

I am sorry that most of our team is leaving this year.—Rosa L. Congleton

I surely enjoyed this as my first year of basketball.—Violet Brown

I am sorry that this is my last year to play, but I have enjoyed every game of the year.—Sallie R. Moody.

I have enjoyed my role as captain for the year. —Theo. Glover

I have enjoyed this year of basketball even though I had to sit on the bench most of the time.—Laney G. Fowler

I can certainly say that I have enjoyed the last two years of basketball.—Omegia Moody

The success of a basketball team does not always depend upon the number of games that it wins. Our team this year was a success because it has shown to us the good sportsmanship of which it is comprised. Its loyalty to itself and to the faculty as well as to the student body and its attitude in defeat as well as in success has proved to everyone that the girls' basketball team of 1941 individually as well as a team has been a complete success.—Vileigh Austin, Coach
